

IT'S ALL IN THE GLASS

In a recent interview with Mrs Alex Minter-Brown, Chairwoman of The Society of Wine Lovers Wives of Constantia, she revealed that her members have voted Beluga number one when it comes to wine and dine. “We love everything about Beluga, the food, the wine and the sushi. But what we love most is the wine glasses.”

This comment made little sense until I investigated further. I soon discovered that the secret is in the new Peter Steger One for All wine glass Beluga uses. With this glass the impossible has become possible. The glass was designed by professional sommelier Peter Steger, and is able to bring out all of the wine's aromas to its fullest – no matter what variety of wine you are dealing with.

The depth and the shape of the glass is also just perfect for giving the wine a vigorous swirl and to allow for the oxidation of the wine, which allows the wine to open up, releasing the more subtle and delicate flavours it carries.
